5) Read Sam's blog post about a festival he went to yesterday. Write questions and answers.

I was at the High Peak Music Festival yesterday. I was really excited because my favorite band, The Echoes, was there. The weather wasn't great, it was very cold and rainy, but the music was amazing. The drummer, Leo, played so fast! The lead singer, Maya, was incredible, but she was a bit tired because she was ill last week. Surprisingly, there were hundreds of people in the audience despite the weather. The food stalls were open, but the food was really expensive! Overall, it was a fantastic day, and I hope to go again next year.

- a. the weather / sunny?

No, it _____.
- b. the music / amazing?

Yes, it _____.
- c. Why / Maya / tired?

Because she _____.
- d. How many / people / at the festival?

- e. the food / cheap?

No, it _____.

READING SECTION

6) Read the text again. Choose the correct answers.

Lollapalooza is one of the biggest and most famous music festivals in the world. It started in the U.S., but now it takes place in many countries, including Argentina. This year, the three-day festival was at the Hipódromo de San Isidro in Buenos Aires, and I was there with my friends!

Many top international and local artists played at the festival. On the first night, the famous pop singer Sam Smith gave an incredible performance. Their voice was super powerful and everyone was singing along! On the second night, the American rock band Blink-182 played on the main stage. I love pop-punk music, so they were my favorite band of the whole weekend. Their show was full of energy and very funny, too. My favorite song of their concert was All the Small Things.

On the final night, the Colombian singer Feid performed. I don't usually listen to reggaeton, so I wasn't very excited at first, but the energy in the crowd was incredible and everyone was dancing.

There was only one problem: the tickets were very expensive! But it was an amazing weekend, and I hope to go back next year.
